Kathleen Halme is the author of three books of poetry, Every Substance Clothed, which won the University of Georgia Press Contemporary Poetry Series competition and the 1995 Balcones Poetry Prize; Equipose (Sarabande Books, 1998); and, most recently, Drift and Pulse (Carnegie-Mellon University Press, 2007). An earlier chapbook, The Everlasting Universe of Things, was selected as winner of the Harperprints Poetry Chapbook Competition by Edward Hirsch. Kathleen Halme grew up in Wakefield, a post-mining town in Michigan's upper peninsula. She completed her MFA in Creative Writing at the University of Michigan, where her work was awarded the Hopwood Creative Writing Award. Her honors include a National Endowment for the Arts fellowship in poetry and a National Endowment for the Humanities summer fellowship in anthropology. She lives with her husband in Portland, Oregon.
